

MICRO ARMOUR® : The Game - Modern

Sinai "SNAFU" - October 31, 1956

ISRAEL - Anxiously behind schedule, mobile elements of the "Israeli Defense Force" (IDF) have been stalled by unexpectedly stiff Egyptian resistance at the natural fortress of Abu Ageila. It's already Wednesday, and Sharon's Paratroopers have been at Mitla Pass for days without relief. As Colonel Wallach or Colonel Goder Player A must attempt a desperate assault to break the Egyptians quickly, or Moesha Dayan may sack you too!

EGYPT - Your army has had years to fortify Umm Qatef. Your men are well trained and eager to prove themselves. If you stop the Israeli invasion they will earn the respect of the entire Arab world.

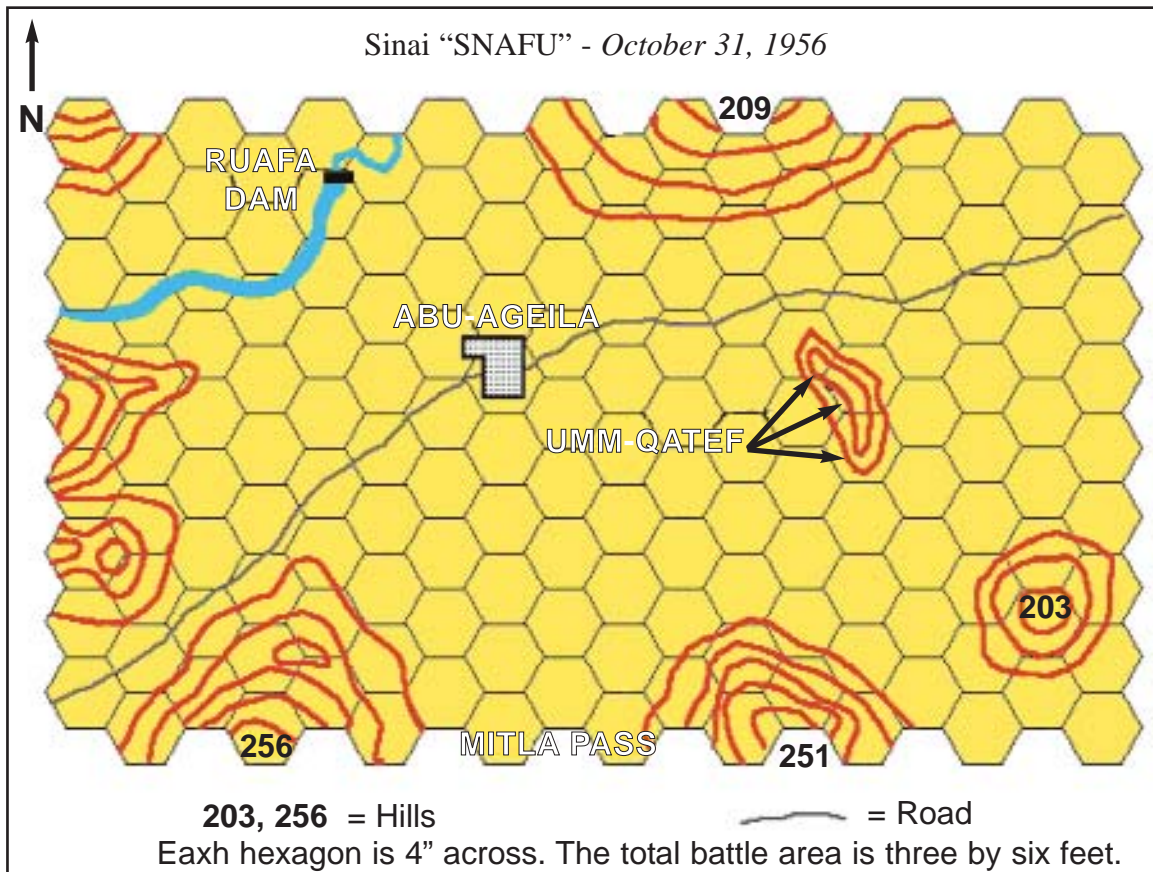

TERRAIN SUGGESTIONS:

"Mixed" Desert with one good road running East-to-Southwest. The "Ruafa Dam" may be crossed as if it were a bridge. Abu-Ageila is "Light" Buildings. All water on the map is impassable terrain.

SCENARIO LENGTH: 20 TURNS

VICTORY CONDITIONS:

Both sides: Be the only player occupying "Umm Qatef" at the end of turn 20.

What-if Option: At this time, 9th Armored Battalion/7th Armored Brigade was past the southern mouth of the Diakla Pass, racing west to reinforce the paratroopers at Mitla Pass 140 km away. This unit was composed of AMX-13 (75) Tanks. One or two companies of this battalion could have detoured north to assist with repulsing the expected Egyptian riposte at Abu Agiela.

What-if Option: The Egyptian "Front Line" ran northwest of Abu Agiela to al Arish (3rd Infantry Division command post). There was an Armored Brigade garrisoned at Gebel Libni, 30 km west of Abu Agiela. On October 30th, Israeli reconnaissance aircraft spotted an armored column approaching Abu Agiela from the northwest. The report proved to be false, but the Israelis sent two platoons from the 82nd Armored Battalion to delay the arrival of these "phantoms".
